

Greetings to William Poloc, Beth, and the Churches of Baguio,

I would like to ask William to kindly introduce Leighton and his wife, who are visiting from England.

Leighton and Pana Medley

I had been invited to accompany them to Baguio this coming November, but due to ongoing health issues—and now being 76 years of age—I am sadly unable to make the journey.

I first met William in 2001 at New Bilibid Prison, where we encouraged him to return to his hometown of Baguio to preach the gospel to his own people and family. It was a great privilege to accompany him during the baptisms held in Benguet and at Baguio City Jail, including the baptisms of Beth and Josie Ortez.

I have already informed Leighton about the gospel work among you, and how William came to realise the importance of teaching monergism—that is, the truth that God is sovereign in every aspect of life: in creation, providence, and salvation—as clearly outlined in Louis Berkhof’s Systematic Theology.

It is my sincere desire and request that those now serving as pastors in the churches take time to write their testimonies— I understand there may now be ten or more churches among you with pastors. I would be most grateful if each one would write their testimony and share how they were called to the ministry of the gospel. How they were converted, and how they came to a true understanding of the sovereignty of God in salvation. This would be a wonderful opportunity to bear witness to the world of the goodness, mercy, and grace of our God.

Just as we did with Trojan Warriors (Testimonies), I would like to publish your stories together in a new book to share with others around the world.

I have asked Leighton to encourage you in this proposal. Your written testimonies can be sent to me by email. I will collate and prepare them for publication as a testimony of God's life-giving grace.

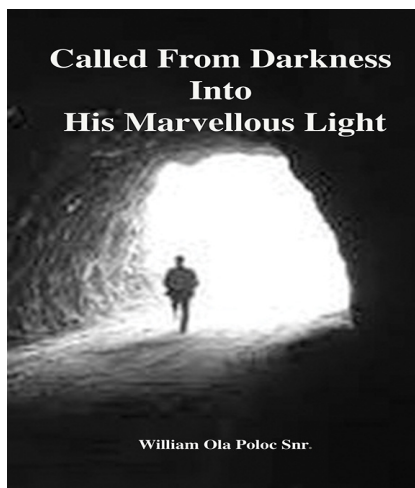

In Christ's service,

David Clarke

P.S. I would like Lucas to write his testimony to include in the publication, please encourage him.
